

MAJOR DEFEAT OF PRESIDENT BIG SURPRISE

Capital Agog and His Veto is Overridden By Both Houses

Washington, March 29—(AP)—The administration pondered without immediate answer today on where to get another $228,000,000—the cost of a surprising overthrow of President Roosevelt's first major veto.

"What'll we use for money?" That in effect was the query of government heads after the turbulent Capitol scenes that accompanied the break between Congress and the Chief Executive.

There was no quick reply. Several courses were open. Early speculation had it that either new taxes would be suggested or a deficiency appropriation voted to expand the budget by the needed amount.

May Increase Debt

The latter course alone, without the revenue, would mean swelling the public debt just that much more.

The Senate's action last night, after seven hours of furious debate, did not cause quite the surprise engendered when the overwhelmingly Democratic House defeated the veto.

By a three-vote margin of 63 to 27, the Senate engraved on the statute books the $228,000,000 Independent Offices Appropriation bill.

In it were the increased payments for veterans and government employees which had been the bone of contention.

G. O. P. Solid Phalanx

Republicans—33 in all—stood in solid phalanx for the bill. They were joined by 29 Democrats and the lone farmer-labor member, Shipstead of Minnesota.

The Senate's action, the President said, was the Democratic side. Shouting scenes accompanied the vote. Opponents of the veto ignored all pleas by the Democratic leaders that such action might shake confidence in Roosevelt at a time when it was needed.

Announcement of the vote by Vice President Garner brought cheers, shouts and applause from the crowded galleries. Despite warnings from the chair there had been previous outbursts both on the Senate floor and in the crowds above.

Amid Excitement

Washington received the news with some excitement. It meant that $228,000,000 extra would be given federal employees between now and July 1, part of it retroactive until February 1. In addition to this five per cent restoration of the government pay-cut, another five per cent, adding another $126,000,000 will go into effect July 1. Much of this money will be spent in the Capital.

Observers found much to talk about on the possible political repercussions of the vote. They were trying to decide whether the 29 Democrats in the Senate and 210 in the House who voted against the President had more to gain by supporting the more liberal veterans' provisions than to lose by going against the President at a time when confidence in him was the chief battle cry of the administration.

Much will be heard on both sides in the coming congressional primaries and elections.

Surety Firm Sued

Chicago, March 29—(AP)—Upon disposition of $21,000,000 of contested claims rests the future of the Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment Company, stockholders were told.

The claims, filed by the Middle West Utilities Company result from transactions made over a period of years, but of the total claims—$26,000,000—only $3,000,000 will be recommended for payment by the receiver, Grier Patterson, attorney for the receiver said.

The receiver, Eugene Thayer, disclosed that the company has brought suit for $300,000 against a surety firm on fidelity bonds covering Samuel and Martin Insull who formerly dominated Mississippi Valley and Middle West.

Here's What Law Passed Over Veto Means to War Vets

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Here's what the new independent offices law means to veterans and federal employees compared with the previous law and regulations:

Twenty-nine thousand World War veterans are restored to the rolls permanently at 75 per cent of what they were getting prior to the Economy Act of 1933. The compensation will depend on the degree of disability presumed to have had service origin. Review boards, acting under regulations issued after the economy law, had stricken these men from the lists because of lack of proof that their injuries or diseases were the result of war duty.

Permanently disabled World War veterans will get $100 a month instead $80 as at present.

An unestimated number of Spanish American War veterans are restored to the rolls at 75 per cent of their old pensions. Review boards also had eliminated this group because they could not prove service origin for their disabilities. Widows and dependents also are restored at 75 per cent.

Federal employees who are now working at 15 per cent less than they were getting prior to the Economy Act will get back one-third of this cut as of February 1, this year and another third July 1.

It was estimated by the Veterans' Administration and government officials that the restoration of World War and Spanish-American War veterans benefits and pay to federal employees would cost the government about $234,000,000.

The restoration of full compensation and hospitalization to about 336,716 World War veterans suffering from proved service connected disabilities, and hospitalization and permanent restoration of 75 per cent of their former compensation to veterans whose disabilities are presumed to have resulted from war service was estimated by the Veterans' Bureau to cost $41,800,000 annually.

The provision permanently restoring to Spanish-American War veterans and their widows and dependents 75 per cent of the pension income received prior to March 19, 1933, was estimated to cost $37,500,000 annually. About $3,000,000 more would be involved in automatic salary and pension increases.

The restoration of ten per cent of the pay cut to federal employees was estimated to cost $125,000,000 during the coming fiscal year beginning July 1. Five per cent was restored retroactive to February 1, this year and would entail $26,000,000.

The last census of the Civil Service Commission as of December 31, 1933, showed 591,675 such employees, all employed by the federal government.

Indict Woman and Alleged Lover for Husband's Murder

Edwardsville, March 29—(AP)—The Madison county grand jury today had voted murder charges against Mrs. Gertrude Puhse, 43, and her alleged lover, Thomas J. Lehne, 43, in the death of the woman's husband, Charles W. Puhse, shot to death while he slept in his Granite City home early on the morning of January 26.

Sheriff Peter Fitzgerald said he obtained confessions from Lehne and Mrs. Puhse that Lehne shot and killed Puhse after she had given the signal by turning on the light in the kitchen of the Puhse home.

Puhse's death first was listed as suicide, but subsequent investigation resulted in the purported confessions and the grand jury indictment.

GIRL SLUGGED AND ROBBED ON E. BOYD STREET

Lola Kirby, 19, Victim of Brutal Holdup
Last Evening

Miss Lola Kirby of Forreston, aged 19, who is employed as a maid in the home of a family residing on East Fellows street, was beaten and robbed last night about 10 o'clock when she was returning to her home. The young woman was struck and knocked to the river's edge by the brutal thief who had hidden in the bushes, and in a semi-conscious condition, might have been drowned. Part of her belongings were recovered from the water by police this morning.

The police received a call about 10:30 and immediately launched an investigation which failed to reveal any information as to the identity of the brutal assailant. Miss Kirby, who this morning was recovering from the shock of her experience, was able to give the police details of the robbery late last night.

Girl Tells Story

She stated that she was walking east on East Boyd street and that, just east of North Democrat avenue, a strange man stepped from behind the bushes and grabbed her by the arm. Seizing her purse, he produced a small flash light and took 72 cents from a small pocket-book. Apparently infuriated at having found only a small sum, he struck her in the mouth, then removed a glove from her hand. He spoke only a few words, and examining her fingers, slipped a small silver ring from her finger.

As she implored the stranger to release her, his anger increased and he struck her again on the side of the head, which blow rendered her semi-conscious as she rolled down the bank to the edge of Rock River. This morning Patrolman Seagren recovered one of her slippers and a key from the river's edge and her hat was found in the bushes along the river bank. The young woman regained consciousness and went to the home where she is employed, where she told her story and the police started an immediate investigation.

H. PRESTEGAARD OF LEE BURNED BADLY IN CRASH

His Car Went Thru
Guard Rail on Highway, Caught Fire

Henry Prestegaard, aged 43, resident of Lee, was in a critical condition at the Katherine Shaw Betheda hospital today, the result of an automobile accident which occurred about 6:30 last evening on the Lincoln Highway about two miles west of Franklin Grove. He was suffering from extreme shock and severe burns about the head and hands.

Prestegaard, who has been in ill health for some time and had recently returned home from a sanatorium where he had been receiving treatment, came to Dixon yesterday afternoon on business. He was on his way home and was driving east on the Lincoln Highway, when at the curve west of Franklin Grove, he lost control of his car which crashed into the guard rail fence. The machine continued through the fence a distance of about 20 feet and was said to have turned over twice before again alighting on the wheels.

The car caught fire before the driver could extricate himself and he received deep burns about the head. In attempting to extinguish the fire with his hands he was also painfully burned. Roy Plowman, local merchant, was returning to Dixon from Franklin Grove and was the first to reach the scene. At Mr. Prestegaard's request, he was taken to the hospital. The car was completely destroyed by the fire. The injured man is a brother of J. O. Prestegaard one of the Republican candidates for sheriff of Lee county.

WOMAN VISITOR IN DIXON DEAD RESULT MISHAP

Former Resident Fatally Injured on Street Today

BULLETIN

Mrs. Christine McCune passed away at the Katherine Shaw Betheda hospital at 11:45 this morning her death occurring within an hour from the time she figured in an accident on First street at the Illinois Central arch when she was said to have walked into the side of a truck belonging to John Johnson.

Mrs. Christine McCune, aged 66, of Council, Idaho, for many years a resident of this vicinity, was in a critical condition at the Katherine Shaw Betheda hospital today, the result of an accident about 10 o'clock this morning on First street at the Illinois Central arch. Mrs. McCune was walking west on the north side of First street and at the arch is presumed to have started across the street without looking.

A truck, owned and driven by John Johnson, was going west and Mrs. McCune was said to have walked into the side of the truck. She was struck by a metal coal chute and knocked down. Edward Brechon and Elmer Fisher of South Dixon, who were near the scene, placed the aged lady in their car and rushed her to the hospital. She was unconscious for some time and investigation revealed a severe head injury and a fractured pelvis. Her condition was reported at noon to be quite serious.

Mrs. McCune, who for a number of years had resided in this locality and was well known in Dixon came from her home in Council, Idaho, about three weeks ago to look after business affairs in Dixon. During her stay here she had been visiting at the J. C. Atkinson farm home.

ONE PCT. LIMIT ON TAXATION OF PROPERTY URGED

Revenue Commission Reports: Asks Fourth
Special Session

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 29—(AP)—A constitutional amendment to limit all property taxes to one per cent of the full value of the property was recommended today by the Lewis Revenue Commission.

Governor Horner was asked to call a fourth special legislative session to submit to a November referendum the proposed revision of the state Constitution's revenue article, frequently described as antiquated.

The special commission's final report, signed by Rep. F. W. Lewis of Robinson, the chairman, expressed the belief that the revenue article amendment, frequently proposed but always defeated, could be adopted this year.

Furnishing an issue for the closing days of the primary campaign, the commission urged that the proposed amendment should "include a definite and fixed limitation on the amount of taxes to be born by real estate."

Without commenting on the report Horner said he would not call another special session unless the plan is workable and is agreed upon by all factions, making its adoption certain.

Previously, he had held the one per cent limitation unworkable. Within urban communities, the limitation is to be "one per cent of the full value of said property exclusive of bonded indebtedness."

In Rural Areas

For rural areas the limitation on property taxes was recommended at eight-tenths of one per cent.

Other recommendations were: That urban bonded indebtedness be limited to 12 1-2 per cent for five years and to ten per cent thereafter, based on the full valuation of property.

That rural indebtedness be limited to ten per cent for five years and eight per cent thereafter.

That "the legislature be empowered to tax new sources of revenue, provided said tax is levied by a two-thirds vote of the members of both houses thereof."

That new taxes will be allocated on a basis of not more than 25 per cent to the state, with the remainder going to the counties, subject to change by a two-thirds legislative vote.

That the limitation on taxes apply on levies made after January 1, 1936.

CENSORSHIP OF ALL NRA NEWS ORDERED TODAY

"Reminders" Sent Out to
All Subordinates in Great Bureau

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Orders regulating the issuance of news to the press have just been given all NRA officials. They establish strict rules for news announcements than have existed since the early days of what Gen. Hugh S. Johnson has called his "goldfish bowl" administration.

All subordinates were "reminded" in a memorandum that "information to the press (other than that issued from the administration office) should go out through the Public Relations Department and not direct to reporters."

Last winter the Treasury decided to establish strict rules for news. In the resultant furor, charges of censorship were made. The rule was subsequently modified.

Alvin Brown, executive officer who sent out the NRA regulations, added this caution:

"Will you please convey this information verbally to all in your division whom it might affect?"

This limited the copies in existence to no more than a dozen or so, but the order was found after Deputy Administrators began answering newsmen's queries with the formula: "You'll have to ask Mr. Lawson about that."

(William V. Lawson, one-time Chicago newspaperman, is head of the press publicity section at NRA.)

Johnson, who in speeches denouncing the idea of censorship frequently has called newspapermen to witness that NRA business is conducted openly—"as in a goldfish bowl"—recently has made known displeasure at some accounts of NRA doings. He has held but one press conference since the end of February when a series of officially-invited public criticism meetings, code authority sessions and automobile strike negotiations began.

FORMER PILOT OF WALGREEN PLANE IS ILL

Ira Biffle, Teacher of Lone Eagle, Reported
Near Death

Ira Biffle, an aviator who is said to have taken part in the early air training of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and who, as pilot of Charles R. Walgreen's Sikorski amphibian plane, visited Dixon many times, is in a critical condition from heart trouble in the Cook county hospital. Physicians expressed the fear last night that Biffle could not recover.

Cheerful despite his affliction, Biffle yesterday reminisced concerning his 20 years in aviation. He said he first knew Lindbergh in 1922 when Biffle was employed as a pilot for the government at Lincoln, Neb. Impressed by the intense desire of Lindbergh to learn to fly, Biffle undertook the instruction, he said. After six hours in the air Lindbergh completed his first solo flight. Biffle said, and started the career that led to the solo flight to Paris.

Biffle said that he himself first flew as a pilot in the army air corps in 1914, and later served as an instructor on the army field at San Diego, Cal. An air mail pilot for several years, Biffle was forced out of aviation by failing eyesight.

SAYS FREEPORT MAN USED GUN TO PRESS SUIT

Threats Cause Mendota
Woman to Cause Car
Repairer's Arrest

William Frager, 50, Illinois Central railroad car repairer, was lodged in the Stephenson county jail at Freeport last night after he is alleged to have threatened to shoot Mrs. Hazel Reinsinger, 25, of Mendota, at the Thomas A. Powers home, in Freeport.

Mrs. Reinsinger said she met Frager for the first time Monday night on the train on which she was journeying from Mendota to Freeport. He started a conversation with her, she said, and asked if he might accompany her to the Powers home. She refused his request, telling him that Powers would meet her at the station.

Tuesday Frager appeared at the Powers home several times, Mrs. Reinsinger said, but she did not permit him to enter. Last night while she was alone, she said, he rapped at a front window, flourished a .32 caliber Colt revolver and said, "Let me in or I'll blow your brains out."

Mrs. Reinsinger said she told Frager that she couldn't open the front door and asked him to go to a rear door. While he went to the rear door, she ran out of the front door to the home of a neighbor, where she telephoned police.

Police arrested Frager in a shed near the Powers home. A .32 caliber Colt revolver was found nearby.

Mrs. Reinsinger and her husband are friends of Powers, she said, and she came to Freeport to help him clean his house. She intended to return to Mendota today she said.

Martin Insull is Given Liberty Under Big Bond: Turkey Detains Brother

Samuel's Ship is Held White - Haired
At Istanbul by Officials of Govt.

Chicago, March 29—(AP)—Martin J. Insull emerged from a county jail today to be led before the bar of justice he had striven 17 months to evade.

Standing silent while his counsel deferred a formal plea to the two indictments alleging the embezzlement of $364,000 from his former Utilities companies, the elderly defendant quickly gained his freedom under $50,000 bonds and was told he might go where he pleased within the United States.

Formalities were promptly disposed of in the court of Chief Justice Philip J. Finnegan, and the trial was assigned to Judge James F. Fardy.

The technicalities of bond were approved, and Judge Fardy, informed by John E. Northrup that he had a number of preliminary motions to offer in behalf of Insull, agreed to entertain them April 6.

To Start New Fight

Insull was returned to the county jail to fulfill the routine of release under bond, of which $20,000 was the home of a family friend, John Irwin, and $30,000 furnished by a bonding company; then he was free to plunge into a conference with Attorney Northrup starting a new stage in the fight for acquittal—and with acquittal, exile to Canada. By the terms of his entry permit signed at Detroit yesterday Insull, a British citizen despite his 45 years of American citizenship, must leave this country immediately upon his release by the state of Illinois.

At 11:28 A. M. his release was signed and Insull left the jail that had been his home during his first night at Chicago in nearly two years.

Defense Undisclosed

What legal avenue the defense attorneys will follow was not disclosed. Rumor has been that an effort will be made to take the trial away from Chicago, seat of the Insull utility and investment realm and focal point of the reverberating investigations that have followed collapse of the Insull dynasty.

As he left his cell for the jail exit, Insull was run through the process of fingerprinting a second time, the usual formality, officers explained, although his records had been taken and prints made when he entered the county jail last evening after the train trip from Detroit.

Has Sore Finger

The third finger on his right hand was bandaged. He had cut it with a razor at Toronto several days ago.

"Go easy with that finger," he told the fingerprint experts. "You hurt it yesterday."

A Negro jail runner carried his clothing for him as he walked out, chatting jovially with his attorneys and seemingly in the best of spirits now that liberty, albeit perhaps temporary, was his. He laughed aloud at some witticism, and was still smiling as he emerged from the grim stone building and found a goodly crowd of spectators standing about to get a good look at this untroubled king. But there was no untoward demonstration.

Uttered Single Word

He said but one word during the brief hearing before the Chief Justice.

"Yes," he said, in answer to the court's routine question whether he was Martin J. Insull.

Judge Finnegan asked whether he cared to enter a plea at this time.

Northrup said his client preferred to defer pleading. The case was then assigned to Judge James F. Fardy, to whose courtroom the erstwhile multimillionaire was taken for a second arraignment.

The white-haired man smiled wanly when greeted by newspaper men where he lost his 17 months fight against extradition. His only comment on the affairs of the Insull family came when he scoffed at reports that his fugitive brother was plentifully supplied with funds.

"He's broke," he said, "absolutely broke and so are we all."

A delay of from a month or six weeks in his trial seemed certain.

Insurance Actuary's Duties
An insurance actuary is one who figures rates, including mortality tables. DR. WYNEKOOP
TAKEN TO HER
PRISON TODAYConvinced Her Ride to Dwight Last Glimpse of Outside World

Chicago, Mar. 29—(AP)—Calm, silent and dry-eyed, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop began her trip to prison this morning to serve 25 years for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta.

Still too feeble to walk, as a result of the heart attacks which once stopped her trial, Dr. Wynekoop was wheeled out of her cell in the county jail in an invalid's chair. She stepped from it into Bailiff Gabriel's sedan.

Miss Mary Kennedy, the Chief Matron of the jail and Dr. Wynekoop's friend, went along to attend the gray haired physician on her journey to prison.

Dr. Wynekoop was to be driven sixty miles to the Illinois women's prison at Joliet, a new "cottage prison" representing the most advanced theories of penology.

Her doctor-daughter, Dr. Catherine Wynekoop, and her elder son, Walker, followed their mother in another car.

Dejected, ill and apparently broken in spirit, she was convinced that her ride this morning to the state prison at Joliet would be her last glimpse of the world.

For at 63 she is under a 25-year sentence for the "operating table" murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, found slain in her basement surgery last November.

"Have you any final message?" she was asked.

"Yes," she said, "tell my friends to read the second chapter of Joshua. It will give them a good insight into political chicanery."

"I am convinced that Rheta's death and the three robberies that occurred in my house are in some way connected. Some day I shall find out how."

"You know that opium and money were stolen from my home three different times. I suppose I made a terrible error in not reporting those three burglaries to the police, but I felt it really would be useless, so I didn't."

"It is all a terrible miscarriage of justice. I have never hurt a single life's work kicked over?"

As a last ironic touch to the bizarre murder case, the New York Life Insurance Company filed a court petition asking that a $5,000 life insurance policy, Dr. Wynekoop obtained for Rheta be cancelled.

It alleged it had been obtained by fraud.

ST. PATRICK'S
The anniversary of the institution of the Holy Eucharist, will be opened with a high mass to be followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament to the altar of repose. In the evening at 7:30 there will be Rosary and a sermon on the Holy Eucharist.

On Good Friday there will be the mass of the Presanctified at 8:00 A. M. Beginning at 12 noon the "Tre Ore" devotion. The devotion lasting for three hours portrays the suffering and death of Christ on the Cross. A discourse on each of the seven last words uttered by Christ on the cross will be given by the Rev. Fr. Ignatius. The beautiful music accompanying this devotion will be sung by St. Patrick's combined choir and will be as follows:

1st Word: "Father forgive them"—Gounod.

2nd Word: "This day thou shalt be with Me in Paradise"—Gounod.

3rd Word: "Mother behold thy son"—Gounod.

4th Word: "My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me"—Gounod.

5th Word: "I Thirst"—Dubois.

6th Word: "It is finished"—Dubois.

7th Word: "Father into Thy hands I commend My spirit"—Dubois.

Adoramus Te Christe—Dubois.

THE BROOK

(From the Spanish)
LAUGH of the mountain!—
lyre of bird and tree!
Pomp of the meadow!—
mirror of the morn!
The soul of April, unto whom are born
The rose and jessamine
leaves wild in thee!
Although, where'er thy devious current strays,
The lap of earth with gold and silver teems,
To me thy clear proceeding brighter seems Than golden sands, that charm
each shepherd's gaze.
How without guile thy bosom, all transparent
As the pure crystal, lets the curious eye
Thy secrets scan, thy smooth, round pebbles count!
How, without malice, murmuring glides thy current!
O sweet simplicity of days gone
by!
Thou shun'st the haunts of man,
to dwell in limpid fount!—Longfellow.

Deep Breathing Is Aid to Poise

By ALICIA HART

A woman's charm and graciousness often are judged by the way she sits. The great beauties of the world radiate a certain poise and dignity as they sink into comfortable chairs, lean back and sip their tea. It is an enviable accomplishment, that of knowing how to grace a drawing room.

First, the truly poised people have undoubtedly learned how to breathe. Do you know that deep breathing, done correctly, is one sure cure for self-consciousness?

And that once this bug-bear is eliminated, graciousness and poise come much easier? Let us consider the inhaling of oxygen into the lungs.

You should breathe deeply, filling the lungs to their very bottoms. Shallow breathing is not only bad for health but does not make for poise. Sit comfortably but straight in your chair, chest high, chin up and stomach pulled in. If you're embarrassed when sitting down among a laughing group of strangers, breathing deeply will help you to regain your poise.

The recovery will be speeded up, too, if you think less about yourself. Self-consciousness usually is prevalent among persons who think too much in terms of "I".

South Dixon And Nachusa Units Met

The South Dixon and Nachusa units of the Farm Bureau Club held a joint meeting Friday evening, March 23, at Rosbrook's hall, with a large attendance of farm bureau members, their families and visitors.

After the roll call of each unit the following program was enjoyed:

Music—Organses Sisters.
A Skit—Mrs. Blinn Bryan and Mason Sivits.

Play—"The Lie that Jack Built" by Miss Covert, Miss Herbst and Harold and Robert Schafer from Palmyra.

Music—Shippert Sisters.
Duet—Mrs. Fred Johnson and daughter.

Reading—Mrs. George LePere.
Talk on Insurance—Mr. Ullings-ville.

Mr. Yale announced a joint meeting of Lee, Ogle, Whiteside and Carroll counties to be held at the Sterling Coliseum, April 26. Earl Smith is to be the speaker. A large attendance from each county is desired.

After the program an hour of recreation was enjoyed.

Tempting refreshments were served by the ladies.

"Olivet to Calvary" On Friday Evening

On Friday evening at 7:30 at St. Paul's Lutheran church under the direction of Mrs. Dwight Chapman Maunders's cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," will be given. This cantata recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitudes, with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the Mount at night form the chief features of the first part.

Part Two opens with the Supper of the Passover, at which Jesus washes his disciples feet and gives to His friends the new commandment of love for one another. From this scene passes to the infighting of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd; Jesus forsaken by his disciples. His utter loneliness among ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the judgment Hall, the Passage of the Cross, are the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

The personnel of those taking part is as follows:

Sopranos:
Eva Peterson, Elsie Toot, Emma Stein, Lillian Shick, Marion Hahn, Catherine Hahn, Florence Thompson.

Altos:
Edna Weyant, Erda Glessner, Irene Weyant, Marion Schmidt.

POLITICS MUST REFORM FOR NEW ECONOMICS.

If present tendencies continue the whole face of American politics is likely to be changed almost beyond recognition.

This change is not simply a matter of a new alignment of the two national parties. It will be concerned, rather, with the mechanics of government, especially of local government.

Our conception of the duty which an officeholder owes to the public, as contrasted with his duty to his party, may at last be brought up to date.

You can get an understanding of what the change may be like by considering a proposal recently advanced for a series of state factories in North Dakota.

This scheme has been propounded by Senator Lynn Frazier, Republican, and A. C. Townley, organizer of the Nonpartisan League. Under it, the North Dakota Industrial Commission has asked the PWA for a loan of $4,000,000 to finance a chain of state factories—75 of them, in all—to make woolen cloth, clothing, shoes, linseed oil, flour and so on.

The idea is that these factories would provide work for the state's unemployed, help supplement the income of farmers, and turn the state's raw materials into manufactured articles.

Leave aside, for the moment, the question of whether such an experiment in Socialism is wise, and consider what pressure the scheme would put on the traditional, politics-ridden government of the average American state.

It is reported at Washington, for instance, that PWA officials will not consider making the loan unless they are convinced that there will be efficient and rigidly honest administration within the state.

And it also is recalled that officials of the CWA recently ousted Gov. William Langer of North Dakota as state CWA administrator because of alleged political collections from CWA workers.

A stunt of this kind, in other words, simply would not work at all unless the state government were run with far more sense of public responsibility, and far less thought for political advantage, than we find nowadays in the ordinary state government.

And if such proposals are to become part of our scheme of things—as, according to present indications, they may—it becomes vitally necessary for us to make our system of politics ready for them.

STILL MENACING.

In declaring that the underworld today has more men under arms than the United States army and navy combined, Attorney General Cummings gives us a striking illustration of the extent of the menace presented by our metropolitan gangs.

A fair-minded observer probably would admit that the situation today is better than it was, say, five years ago, when Al Capone was in his hey-day and it was almost an unheard-of thing for a prominent gangster actually to be sent to prison.

Nevertheless, the challenge to organized society which gangland presents has by no means been met fully.

The underworld still supports a larger armed force than the federal government itself supports. That simple statement shows graphically how much remains to be done.

CLEAR OF SPOILS.

The United States Senate acted sensibly in decreeing that the Home Owners Loan Corporation—the principal of whose loans will be guaranteed by the government, under legislation about to be passed—be divorced from politics.

This corporation has a big job to do, and the one important thing about it is that it do the job well—that it help to safeguard the homes of people who have lost their savings and their jobs.

In simple decency, an organization of this kind must not be a happy hunting ground for spoilsmen. More important things than a congressman's ability to hand out jobs to his constituents are at stake.

And it is rather astounding, incidentally, to note that the Senate ruled out politics by the margin of just one vote. The narrowness of that margin reflects no particular credit on the Senate.

SLOW JUSTICE

The law's delays have been a scandal since the time of Shakespeare; or, for that matter, since the time of Rabelais, who had certain jibes to make about the lawyers. The latest attack upon this ancient difficulty comes from Governor Lehman of New York, in a special message to the legislature recently.

Urging revision of the state's court processes, the governor pointed out that in many cases it takes as long as four years after a suit has been filed before it can be brought to trial. Such a delay, obviously, very often will amount to a complete denial of justice.

Not all states, of course, have courts which operate as slowly as these of which Governor Lehman complains. It is safe to say, however, that there is no state in which the course of justice could not profitably be accelerated. It would be a good thing if other governors could follow Governor Lehman's tactics.

Insull is afraid he may be made a fool of, or even lynched by crowds. I believe . . . later Insull will be received gloriously in the United States.—M. Xeros, Greek attorney for Samuel Insull.

By implication and by direct statement the stigma of subsidy has been attached to domestic airmail.—Eddie Rickenbacker.

Cause of Waterspouts

Waterspouts at sea occur when opposite winds of different temperatures meet in the upper atmosphere, whereby a greater amount of vapor is condensed into a thick black cloud, to which a vertical motion is given. A partial vacuum is created in the center, which draws up the water in its vortex. When the waterspout has played itself out, it commences to disappear at the base, gradually traveling upward.

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

The ant that shot into the air gave all the Tinymites a scare. Said Goldy, "Oh, he's way up high. What is he going to do?"

"He can't keep going. He must stop, and then he'll take an awful drop. A sad catastrophe is what we'll see before we're through."

An ant replied, "Oh, no we won't. You see, young lady, you just don't know what a dandy treat's in store. Real shortly you will see."

"The ant has stopped his upward flight. He'll start down now, but he's all right. Watch closely, now, and you'll be as surprised as you can be."

The Tinies strained their necks a while, and then wee Scouty, with a smile, said, "Gee! You're right. He's opened up a monstrous parachute."

"Instead of crashing down to earth, he'll float around for all he's worth. Perhaps he'll land right where we are. We'd best be set to scout!"

"That's not a parachute, my lad," an ant replied. "All that he had was just an old umbrella, and that's what he's using, now."

"Perhaps a stunt like that is rash, but, anyway, he will not crash. I'll let him down real slowly, and he'll steer it 'round, somehow."

Soon Coppy said, "I guess to steer that funny-looking thing's not near as easy as you think it is. See how it dips and dives."

"I'll bet the ant has shaky knees. He's being tossed 'round by the breeze. I'm going to try to catch hold of his legs, when he arrives."

"That's fine, lad, but you'll have no chance," replied one of the little ants. "He's coming down real fast, now, but he will not land near here."

"He's being whizzed right through the air. No doubt he's getting quite a scare, 'cause he is going to land out in that little stream, I fear."

(Duncy goes to the rescue of the ant in the next story.)

Lloyd George took the words of the Queen as his text for an address down in Wales recently, at the unveiling of a memorial to Lewis Carroll, the author. It is a keen thrust of satire, he said, yet made winsome by the spirit of fun.

Even while we smile at it, there is a prick in it that makes us wince. With a swift flashlight of humor it catches us in the very act of robbing today in order to enrich the future that never arrives, and the past that has ceased to be.

Yes, there will be plenty of jam tomorrow. We intend to do such a lot of good and gracious things, to crowd all sorts of fine deeds and kind words into the days and years that lie ahead of us. We are going to begin right aw-y—tomorrow!

In the same way, we lavish jam on yesterday. With prodigal generosity we admit how much we wish we had done to make other people happier; how much better our lives would have been if we had only had the sense and sympathy we have now.

But jam today? No, there is too much to do and we are in such a hurry. Either we are building memorials to the dead or busy setting the wicked world right. Anyway, the day passes without the little bit of jam which would sweeten its flying hours.

Why is it so? Why do we give bouquets to the dead and bricks to the living? Today is all the time that really exists. Why do we waste it, neglect it and let it pass empty away?

It must be that we are here because there is a job for us to do. A part of that job, surely, is to spread the jam of human sympathy and simply joy on the bread of life, often so dry, hard and bitter, which our fellows have to eat!

Daily Health Talk

TEETH AND DIET

Why do doctors raise such a fuss about the teeth, and why do they put so much value upon whatever agency or practice contributes to the prevention of disease of the teeth?

The reason is that a decayed tooth is a focus of lowered resistance. It is a break in man's defense against disease. Osler somewhere said that if we could learn to prevent dental cavities commonly called tooth decay—we would be making a major advance in the safeguarding of health.

This is particularly true in the light of recent discoveries relative to dental decay, agencies make it evident that those agencies which protect the teeth are the very ones which contribute to health.

On the subject of dental decay and its prevention, few have done more illuminating work than the Mellanbys of England. Mrs. Mellanby in a recently published volume says:

"In order to reduce substantially the incidence of dental disease, especially in the temperate zones, it is necessary to introduce large changes in the diet and habits of pregnant and lactating women, of infants and of children during the whole period of dental development, and indeed during the whole life."

"The consumption of milk, eggs, cheese, animal and fish fats and vegetables, must be greatly increased, and the consumption of cereals correspondingly diminished and for the very young abolished.

"Breast feeding must be general and prolonged up to a year or more, provided a supplementary diet is given after about six months which should include some iron and vitamin C."

"Cod liver oil or some other source of fat-soluble vitamins should be given to all infants and children."

SENATOR BARR NOW HAS ONLY EMPTY HONOR

Shorn of Influence as the Republican Leader
in State Senate

Springfield, Ill., March 29—(AP)—Reorganized after revolt and furnishing a new campaign issue, Senate Republicans today insisted that their leaders aggressively oppose Democratic legislation.

Because they consistently supported the Hoover administration, Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet, and two of his veteran colleagues were "chastised" at a Republican caucus. Barr still holds the nominal title of minority leader, but without a following.

The issue was party regularity. Replacing Barr is Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, given the title of Chairman of the Caucus by his party colleagues and pledged "to further the interests of a healthy, vigorous Republican party throughout Illinois."

Others chastised were James J. Barbour of Evanston and Adelbert H. Roberts, Chicago Negro, who also have voted regularly with Democratic majority.

Smouldering resentment against alleged lack of leadership broke out yesterday in a secret Republican caucus. In the factional split, coming less than two weeks before the April primary, it was decided to take no action that might reflect upon party prospects at the polls.

Barr, who has been in the Senate 32 years, still holds the title of Republican leader, but as Chairman of the Caucus the minority fight will be directed by Searcy during the rest of the legislative year. Searcy issued a statement saying:

To Scan Subterfuges
"If ever the Republican party in Illinois needed a medium of positive, constructive expression in the Illinois state Senate, it is now. Our group will caucus weekly and seek cooperation with Governor Horner on matters that effect the common weal; but, we shall be alert to any subterfuges and extravagances which anyone may endeavor to put across the guise of needed legislation.

"Moreover, it will be our aim to further the interests of a healthy, vigorous Republican party throughout Illinois—a party that will stand again for plain, Lincolnian integrity; and that will unflinchingly support the American form of government."

Barr and Barbour are two of the oldest Senators, the latter having served since 1917.

Two Have Opposition
Up for re-election, Barr and Roberts have primary opposition. Searcy is unopposed for re-election, while Barbour's term has two years to run.

Reports from the caucus were that the Senators were conceded the right to vote for any bill, Democratic sponsored or otherwise, but that the Republicans insisted on a more militant leadership.

Barr, Barbour and Roberts were charged with having voted with the Democrats more than they did with the Republicans.

ORIGIN OF WIRT CHARGES THEME OF SPECULATION

Head of American Reds Organization Quot-
in Letter

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Two theories as to the possible origin of the revolution charges enunciated by Dr. William A. Wirt—one of them "the flowing bowl"—were discussed on Capitol Hill today.

While the House Rules committee sought to decide whether to investigate the accusations against the "brain trust" by the Gary, Indiana, School Superintendent, Representative McGugin (R. Kas.) expanded on what some thought was a second possible origin.

The Kansas made public a letter signed by the name of Walter M. Higgins of the Associated Groups for Economic Liberty. It said:

"I think I can clear up the origin of the Kerensky story for you. I can testify that I heard George W. Christians, the leader of the American Reds, tell President Roosevelt himself in the presence of Dr. Raymond Moley and Colonel Marvin McIntyre (presidential secretary) on December 1, 1932, at Warm Springs, Georgia, before the inauguration, that he, President Roosevelt, would be only the Kerensky of this revolution."

Wirt Didn't Hear It

Dr. Wirt who stated he heard a member of the "brain trust" make a similar remark, with the addition that plans were afoot to supplant Roosevelt with a "stalin", said at Gary he had not heard that statement from Christians or Higgins.

Acting Chairman O'Connor (D. N. Y.) of the House Rules committee, which has in charge the resolution for an investigation of the Wirt statements by a congressional committee, was the author of the "flowing bowl" statement.

He said "there is a story going around Washington that Wirt talked to these people at a dinner party, where there was a flowing bowl," and at which there was "talk about the present, past and future."

"They only work for the government in the day time. This was at night time," O'Connor added.

Tuberculosis Long Known

The earliest civilizations known to history have left records of tuberculosis. Egyptian mummies bear witness to its ravages 1,600 years before the Christian era, and Chinese historians record the disease in the sixth century B. C. The tuberculosis germ was discovered in 1882 by a German physician, Dr. Robert Koch.

YANKEES LOOK LIKE THREAT TO CHAMP SENATORS

Will be in Fight Down the Stretch if Pitchers Produce

(This is the sixteenth of a series of stories dealing with the prospects of major league baseball clubs.)

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
(St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 29 — (AP)—With a club that was the leading run-getting machine in the major leagues last year and shows no sign of losing its potency in this respect, the New York Yankees rely upon a revamped infield and much better pitching to keep them in the pennant race this year.

On both counts Manager Joe Mc-Carthy believes he has real reason to be confident the Yankees will give the champion Senators or any other rival a battle down the stretch. It is naturally a question of how long the eminent Mr. Ruth will cavort in right field on a daily basis, but the Babe's sensational streak of spring hitting has buoyed his own conviction that he will do his share of the chores in at least 100 games.

Pitchers Must Produce

Bating power, however, is not what the club needs most. With hitters like Red Rolfe, the sensational new shortstop, Lou Gehrig, Ben Chapman, Tony Chapman, Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey, in addition to Ruth, plenty of punch will be available but it won't do much good to average around seven runs per game unless the pitching department checks the opposition.

This puts the main issue squarely up to the big red-headed right-hander, Charles Rufus Ruffing, and Senior Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, whose decline in effectiveness last year represented the difference between a world championship club in 1932 and a second-place outfit in 1933.

If both Ruffing and Gomez return to top form, McCarthy will have plenty of pitching, for Johnny Allen and Russ Van Atta, sophomore southpaw, figure to do even better than last year, when Allen won 15 and Van Atta 12.

Reserves A-Plenty
From the group including Charley Devens, George Uhle, Danny MacFayden, Johnny Brosca, Harry Smythe, Floyd Newkirk and Jimmy De Shong, the Yankees will select four or five reserves for relief work and double-header duty.

With at least one infielder and outfielder to spare, Lyn Lary and Myril Hoag, Manager McCarthy has been anxious to fortify his pitching department by the trade route but so far his overtures to rival clubs have not been successful.

For the second time in three years the Yankee plan to start the season with two new infielders. The experiment did not click long in 1932, when Jack Saltzgaver started at second and Frankie Crosetti at third, but McCarthy appears to have decided Rolfe will do all the shortstopping necessary and team up with Don Heffner, the Baltimore recruit, at second.

Lazzeri on Third
The shakeup puts Lazzeri on third and leaves Crosetti and Saltzgaver as the likely utility infielders.
Lary may replace one of these two,
if he is not traded. First base will be well taken care of by the iron man, Lou Gehrig, who appears ready for one of his biggest years.

Sam Byrd, a great spring hitter, probably will start in center field, flanked by Chapman and Ruth, but Earle Combs is still available.
Hoag has been understanding Ruth in exhibition games but Dixie Walker is being groomed to succeed

MARANVILLE ON SHELF: SUFFERS FRACTURED LEG

Great Veteran Infield-er's Injury Blow to the Braves

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 29—(AP)—Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, second baseman on the Boston Braves, lay in a hospital today with a broken left leg, but Manager Bill McKechnie said physicians gave him hope that the "Rabbit" would be back in the lineup before the end of the 1934 season.

Maranville, playing one of the best games of his 23 years in the big leagues, ran for home in the last half of the eighth inning of an exhibition game here yesterday with the New York Yankees. He crossed the plate standing up, fell over Catcher Norman Kies and suffered a fracture midway between the knee and the ankle. He is 43 years old.

Dick Gyselman will take over second base for the Braves. Mc-Kechnie said, but the accident left the team without infield reserves.
Maranville will be out at least two or three months and at first it was feared the accident had ended his brilliant baseball career.

The "Rabbit" smoked a cigaret as a physician set the fractured leg on the scene of the accident.
Players from both sides stood by and several women in the audience fainted. Later at the hospital, the leg was reset. Maranville's general condition was reported good.

MRS. WHITNEY'S TWO COLTS BEAR MUCH WATCHING

Greentree Stable Has Likely Derby Material in Couple

New York, March 29—(AP)—Although lacking a horse of the calibre of the mighty Twenty Grand, Mrs. Payne Whitney, mistress of the Greentree Stable, has in Spy Hill and Black Buddy a pair of colts that rate strong consideration in ranking the three-year-olds for the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Spy Hill, a strapping son of the English sire, Spion Kop, is a 40 to 1 shot in the Derby future books while Black Buddy, sired by Bud Lerner, is held at 5 to 1.

Of the pair, Spy Hill is considered the most likely to start.
The colt is bred to stay any distance and that is what is needed in the Kentucky classic. His sire won the 1920 English Derby while his dam, Marvella II, is by Gainsborough, also an English Derby winner.

Black Buddy, which may be reserved for later racing, rated high among the juveniles. He finished out of the money only four times in 11 starts, he won $25,630 with victories in the Juvenile and National Stallion Stakes at Belmont Park.

New York Golden Glove Boxers in Win Over Chicago

New York, Mar. 29—(AP)—Due largely to the efforts of a pair of husky middleweights, Gus Lesnevich and Mark Hough, New York's Golden Gloves amateur boxers were on even terms with their Chicago rivals today after seven years of inter-city competition.

The double victory by Lesnevich, who uses his muscles to juggle trayfuls of dishes during his working hours, and Hough, a veteran Negro boxer, provided the only break in the even division of the bouts as they fought two battles in each division. The final count was nine victories for New York and seven for Chicago. Hough conquered Bill Treest while Lesnevich upset Fred Caserio, last year's inter-city champion.

A crowd of 19,467 packed every inch of space in Madison Square Garden, paying $45,568.77 to see

Moline Bowlers in ABC Provided Real Surprise Yesterday

Peoria, Ill., March 29—(AP)— Smalltown bowlers, always full of surprises, dominate the card again today at the 34th American Bowling Congress.

No one expected anything sensational yesterday when rollers from towns of low population held the spotlight but Eddie Wilkie of Moline, Ill., stepped out and collected 1382 pins in the doubles and singles. The large count enabled young Wilkie to place third in the all-events with 1924 and was the prime factor for him and Knute Anderson, his partner, to place fourth in the doubles with 1264.

The only other change among the ten leaders yesterday was the Paris Cleaners of Springfield, Ill., placing tenth in the five-man event column with 2895.

Hoppe is Defeated by Hagenlacher in Balkline Tourney

Chicago, March 29—(AP)—Eric Hagenlacher of Germany stood tournament today.

The German sharpshooter took the undisputed lead last night by defeating Willie Hoppe of New York, 400 to 113, in 14 innings. It was his second victory in as many starts, and the first defeat in two matches for the veteran Hoppe.

Kinney Matsuyama of Japan and Welker Cochran of San Francisco were tied with Hoppe in the won and lost column, while Ora Morn-

Smiles in SPORTS

By NEA Service

Umpires are constantly the butt of ball players' jokes, both on and off the diamond. John Quinn is no exception—as he found out recently at Fort Myers, Fla., where he was working out with the Athletics.

John had put in a very tough day. He went up to his hotel room with thoughts of retiring. The bed looked mighty good to him, and he took a dive at the inviting mattress, landing on it heavily.

Instead of finding soft down,
John wound up on the floor with a shock that shook the hotel building. Some ball-playing "friends" of his had removed the slats from his bed!

WAGNER LABOR BILL ATTACKED BY HEAD OF C. C.

Harriman Says Measure Will Have Bad
Effect on Nation

Washington, Mar. 29—(AP)— Calling the Wagner labor board bill "probably unconstitutional," Henry I. Harriman, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, today attacked it as likely to have a "disastrous effect upon the economic life of the country."

"I fear it will undo much of the good which the Recovery Act has brought about," said Harriman at a hearing upon the measure before the Senate Labor committee.

Harriman was one of a number of industrialists who appeared in the committee room, armed with statements in opposition to the bill which would make the National Labor Board a permanent institution and outlaw company unions.

Launching out at the important section 5 of the bill, Harriman contended it was "an obvious attempt to amplify the provisions of section 7A of the Industrial Recovery Act," he added.

"In view, however, of the very broad interpretation of that section which was recently made by the President in his settlement of the threatened automobile strike, I see no reason for any further amplification of that section, except to carry out the thought of the President x x x."

LEE RESIDENTS FINALLY GIVEN WAY TO WORLD

Illinois Hi-way Dept.
Gets Bids on Hard
Surfaced Road

Residents of the village of Lee in the extreme east section of Lee county, which is located partly in each of Lee and DeKalb counties, were elated yesterday upon receipt of reports that the state Highway Department at Springfield had considered a roadway out of Lee to a hard surfaced highway. For several years the village and township have attempted to secure the necessary recognition and during the winter the road and bridge committees of both counties were interested in a plan to construct a spur south from the village to connect with the new state highway, route 71.

The original plan called for a cement spur and such a recommendation was forwarded to Springfield, where it is said to have been altered to provide for a gravel road instead. Bids on the work were opened at Springfield yesterday and the proposal of Trompeter Construction Company of Peru was the lowest of several submitted.
Grading operations are expected to start within a few weeks and the road is to be constructed early this summer.

Don't Be Dogged by Irritating Pills and Potions!

NATURE'S WAY—a gentle flush

When frequent headaches warn of constipation, beware the laxative habit! Most medicine-laxatives work by irritating the delicate membranes of the digestive tract—and that's harmful!

Pluto Water is a saline mineral water, not a medicine-laxative. The same dose each time, no need to increase—it always performs, does not gripe, gives results in less than one hour.

The proper dilution—one-fifth glass Pluto in four-fifths glass hot water—is gentle, effective, virtually tasteless. Take it whenever sluggish—and end that laxative habit! In two sizes: Splits, 25c—large bottles (3 times as much) 50c.

COMPTON NAT'L. BANK TO PAY 40 PCT. DIVIDENDS

Checks Sent to Washington to be Approved There

By Faye Archer

Compton—Following the closing of the bank here last November permission was obtained from the Treasury Department for a delay in the liquidation until the stockholders and businessmen were given a chance to try out and effect some plan of reorganization.

Meetings of the businessmen, depositors and stockholders followed the glad tidings, and various committees were appointed and everyone tended to show much enthusiasm and it was hoped that the requirements could be met.

Finally it was evident that it would be impossible to raise the funds through the sale of additional capital stock, before approaching depositors for waivers and on March 6th a meeting was held at which it was decided to notify the Treasury Department to proceed with the liquidation.

Notices were immediately published and creditors asked to file claims covering their deposits in the bank. This was but three weeks ago and to date about $80,000 or a trifle over 70 per cent of the depositors have already filed their claims.

Now comes the welcome news: Henry W. Gehant, the receiver announced that he has prepared dividend checks for all those who already have filed claims and sent them to Washington for the signature of the Comptroller, representing a first dividend of forty per cent.

A complete ticket for the election of a mayor, village clerk and three trustees for the Village of Compton, has been filed with the Clerk C. L. Ogilvie. Election will be held at the village hall here on Tuesday, April 17th. The following names appear on the ticket for reelection: J. W. Banks, for mayor; C. L. Ogilvie for clerk; Roy Archer and Edward L. Holdren for trustees. Gilbert Stein for trustee is the only new name to appear on the ticket.

A "Candidate Supper" which is being planned by the "Our Gang" section of the M. E. Ladies Aid will be given in the church basement, Wednesday evening, April 4th. This will be served cafeteria style, serving starting at 5:30 and continuing until all are served. Thirty candidates of both parties on the April 10th primary ticket have been invited to attend which will furnish an excellent opportunity for the people of this community to meet them.

Isadore Kaufman is spending the Easter vacation from his studies at the University of Chicago visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kaufman.

Mrs. Wm. P. Dunston and Mrs. L. D. Miller are spending several days this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Werner of Rockford. Miss Leola Archer is spending the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Archer.

Mrs. Wellington Swope and infant son were taken to their home from the hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Ott will leave Thursday to spend the Easter holidays with their parents at Watertown, Wis.

H. M. Chaon will spend several days late this week in Chicago.

Foiled in Prison Break, Convicts Face Murder Trial

Branded ringleaders in the thwarted Washington state prison break, five convicts are shown here with their guards as they march, manacled together, to court to face trial on first degree murder charges. Eight men, including a guard, were killed and nine wounded in the futile dash for freedom.

buying his supply of spring goods for his large general store here.

Mrs. Carlyle Gardner and infant daughter were taken to their home near West Brooklyn from the hospital late last week.

Marjorie Chaon, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Chaon was taken to her home early this week following an appendectomy performed at the hospital late last week.

Following recent successes the business men of Compton are again making arrangements for the showing of free movies on the streets during the summer months beginning early in May. A new step has been taken this year to obtain talking pictures, whereas formerly only silent movies have been used. Members of the Compton Bridge Club motored to DeKalb Saturday where they were entertained by Mrs. B. W. Gilmore at a one o'clock luncheon.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Stanley Banks of Santa Barbara, Calif. Mrs. Banks was well known in this vicinity having been born in East Grove township and moving here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Eddy when ten years of age. She married Stanley Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Banks of this village and moved to California where they made their home. She is survived by her husband, two children, her mother, Mrs. Mary Eddy one sister, Mrs. Stella Sangster of Santa Barbara, Calif., and two brothers, Harold of Lee and Clifford of Compton.

THURSDAY, March 29
(Read Luke XXII:34-38.)
"There They Crucified Him."

Jesus is nowhere more assuredly divine than in his prayers. On the cross, he prayed audibly, so far as we know, three times. The first prayer was probably uttered when the nails were being driven through his hands and feet. The agony at such moments was so excruciating that the victim often covered his executioners with the vilest and most blasphemous excretions. Jesus' only response was, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." He had taught men to pray for those who despitefully used them and what he taught he practiced. If only this one sentence had been preserved, the world would have known that Jesus of Nazareth was a Son of God. The human race would be immeasurably poorer if this priceless sentence had been lost. It is one of the incalculable treasures of the Christian Church. It is a thrilling exhibition of forgiveness, an awe-inspiring revelation of the illimitable dimensions of love. Perhaps no other sentence in the Gospels more beautifully embodies the spirit of Jesus than this simple prayer.

PRAYER: Father of Jesus, we thank Thee for teaching us through Thy Son the meaning of love. We did not know the height and depth and length and breadth of forgiveness till we saw him on the cross. We try, O God, to follow him, but alas! how far off! Amen.

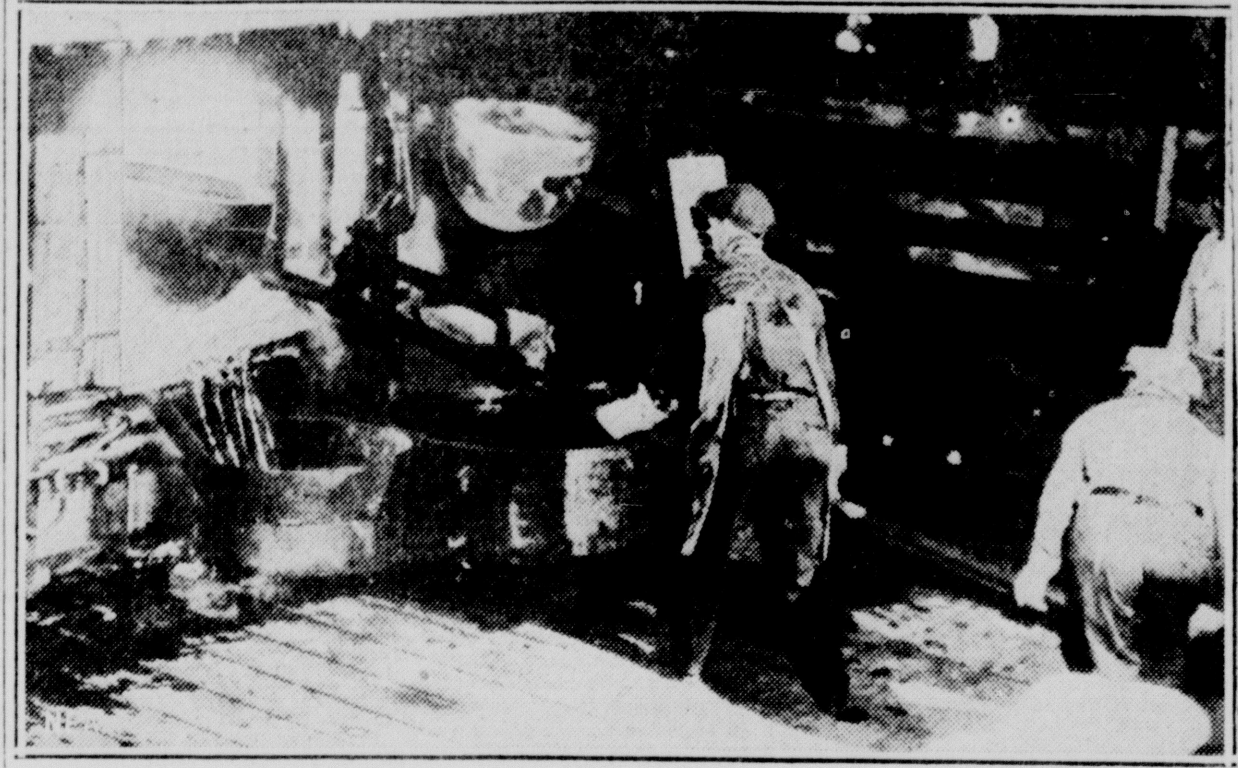

LEE NEWS

By Mrs. H. Hardy

Lee—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colby were shopping in DeKalb Monday.

Scooping Molten Glass for World's Biggest "Eye"

The first step in what is called man's most ambitious scheme to fathom the mysteries of the universe was witnessed by 6,000 persons at the Corning (N. Y.) Glass Works when workmen poured 20 tons of molten glass into a mold which it is expected will produce the world's largest telescopic mirror. The mirror, which will be fitted into a telescope in California, will be 204 inches in diameter, cost $6,000,000 and take pictures of nebulae 1,300,000,000 light years away. Here workmen are seen removing from the furnace the first ladleful of molten glass.

the measles. Paul Hardy spent the week end in Chicago at the Marion Hardy home.

The W. C. O. F. met at the home of Mrs. F. C. Herrmann Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Tim Knutson, Miss Dorothea Keithley and Edmund O'Donnell spent Saturday in Aurora Monday visiting friends.

About 20 friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Colby walked in on them Saturday evening and pleasantly surprised them. The evening was spent in playing cards and at a late hour a tasty luncheon was served. Miss Frances Arndt was in Aurora Monday visiting friends.

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM FIRST WOMAN TO FLY THE ATLANTIC ALONE, MAY 20, 1932
FIRST CASH REGISTER PAT. NOV. 4, 1878 BY JAMES J. RITTY OF DAYTON, O.

Answers to Previous Questions
An open 16-passenger construction was the first cable street car. It was used on Clay street hill, San Francisco. Mrs. Putnam, then Amelia Earhart, made her solo flight of 2026 miles in 14 hours 55 minutes, landing at Londonderry, Ireland. A ship's device, which marked the revolutions of the propeller and recorded the engine's speed, gave Ritty his idea for a cash register.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

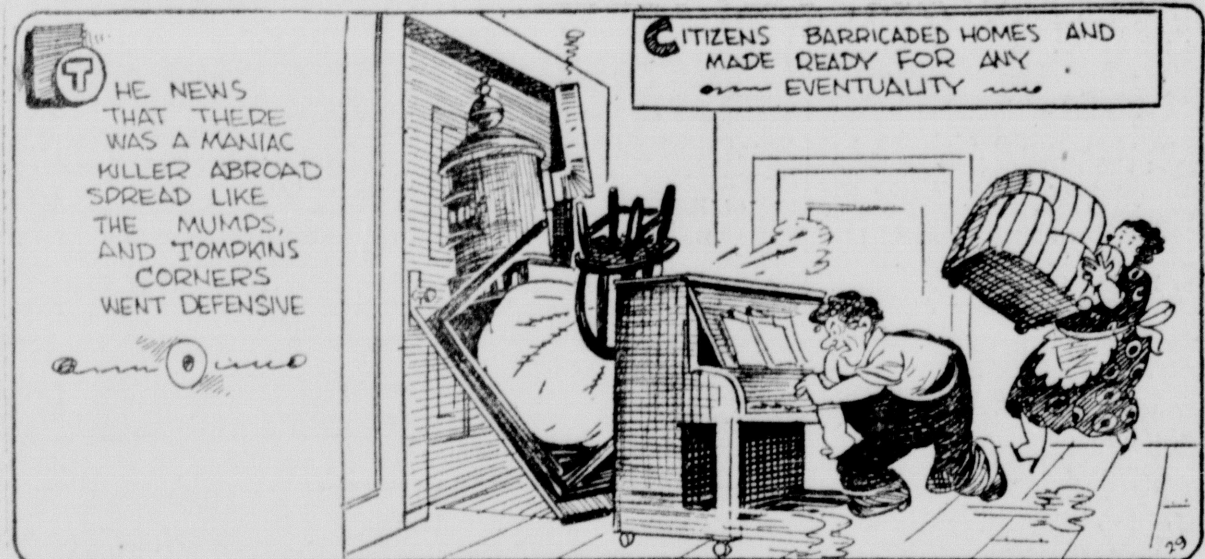

The wobble of the earth's axis is called the "precession," and is caused by an uneven gravitational pull of the sun on the earth. If the earth were exactly globular, this would not occur. The pole wobbles around a circle which takes 25,800 years to complete.

"High Noon" and "Noon" The term "noon" is often loosely used to designate the noon hour, while "high noon" means twelve o'clock exactly. The noon hour, or middle hour, of the day has been considered important from early times and is spoken of as the Serf from the Hora Sexta of the Romans, which corresponds closely with our noon hour. As early as the Third century it was an hour of prayer.

The Spitz Dog The English spitz was formerly known as the white Pomeranian of England, and the better specimens are pure white, though some are bismarck color. They weigh from 25 to 30 pounds. The Eskimo spitz is an entirely different breed, though similar in appearance except that it is larger and has a gentler disposition. No common origin has been traced.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLO, a handsome youth, becomes a fugitive when due to circumstances beyond his control, he flees from Key West to Havana with BEAU and LOTTIE.

Beau has killed a man and stolen a famous string of pearls at the Florida home of wealth; JIM FIELD, Pablo's friend, is accused of the crime. Pablo loves Field's daughter, ESTELLE, and she loves him. MARCIA TREADWAY, a woman of natural ability as a boxer, arranges several profitable matches for him.

Meanwhile SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablo's father is trying to find his son. Estelle Field's mother dies.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV

IN NOVEMBER in little Guana-jay where the tobacco is grown "Juanito" fought a sailor who had declared his willingness to meet "anyone anywhere."

Beau arranged for a cock fight to precede the match. This drew the crowd but they remained to watch and cheer and depart declaring enthusiastically that this new and beautifully brutal sport was good.

"Juanito" and his opponent had met in a great shed where tobacco was usually stored. Lanterns supplied the only light and the corners were dark. Pablo, standing erect and waiting, saw a sea of swarthy faces. Then Beau rang a huge bell. Presently Beau rang the bell again as the boy who was fighting Pablo staggered against the ropes. Blood was on his face, streaming from a cut over his eye. Pablo stood back; Beau fanned him ardently. Then again the bell sounded.

When at last the sailor was lying on the platform, breathing loudly, Pablo crept to his corner and sank into his chair. The Cubans were screaming their approval. Money was changing hands.

Soon afterward the proprietor of a private athletic club heard of this new boxer, "Juanito," and hunted up Beau.

Beau did not know whether "Juanito" would be interested. It took a good purse to tempt him to fight, he confided. But the club proprietor had patrons who came from New York and wanted more than cock fights for their entertainment. He said at length, cautiously, that he thought he could make it worth "Juanito's" while.

Beau said to Pablo, "Not a cent under $5000 for the first fight. And I get a third of the purse! See?"

Pablo saw. He estimated his winnings from a year or two of fighting and saw himself with Noyes in some secluded corner of the world where there would be a peace and a sort of security.

A priest whose abode was in a narrow, dark way back of one of Havana's churches received a letter about this time from one he had sheltered.

"I am weak enough at moments," Noyes wrote, "to brood on what would come from my telling the truth, as I told it to you. I am tempted because I know that if I did this my money would be mine again and would help so much in finding Pablo. On the other hand, there is my wife to think of and my own son who must by this time be a man.

"I have been paying a long while for my sin and know that I must continue to pay. Pray for me, Father, and for the woman of whom I told you—the best woman I have ever known."

THREE years later in a dim old library in an English country home Sir Aubrey wrote a check payable to the American detective agency that employed Billings.

With the check Sir Aubrey sent a letter, one line of which read: "I want you to keep on with the case."

Billings himself wanted to keep on with the case. He had become interested in locating the boy who was, he decided in his low ebb moments, probably dead. "I certainly am nutty about this case!" he murmured often. Yet the tangle haunted him.

The spring before he had made a trip to England to see Sir Aubrey and his healthy, red-cheeked, tawney-haired daughters. Mr. Billings, being imaginative, saw the old house at Lower Gittings in the hands of a somewhat rough young buccaner who would "sit things up a little" and saw the village being put upon an "up-to-date" basis.

"What you lack here," he said bluntly to Sir Aubrey, "is pep!" Sir Aubrey, somewhat at a loss, replied vaguely, "No doubt." Then he quickly changed the subject.

MARCIA TREADWAY was leaner, sharper and three years more weary of the world. She sat, one February morning, in the boudoir of her New York home, eating breakfast and reading her letters. The boudoir's walls and furnishings were a riot of purple, blue and green—a result of a fashionable decorator's ideas of "the new color harmonies."

There were a great many letters on the tray and sometimes, after a brief glance at an envelope, Marcia would toss one, unopened, into a wastebasket. This gave her a sort of malicious enjoyment and at the same time the cautious side of her nature did not suffer. She knew her maid would open the letter later and read carefully all that Marcia did not read at all. If there were news of any importance the maid would be sure later to report it in a shame-faced, devious manner. This, too, gave Marcia pleasure because she could be sharp with Marie about spying.

Now she picked up a letter with a Havana postmark and slit it open, recognizing Estelle Field's handwriting.

The letter read: "Dear Miss Treadway: Father and I hope very much that you can arrange to visit us in Havana the last two weeks of February or early in March. Father says you have never seen our home here. It is quite attractive and it would make me very happy to have you come."

EASTER CUSTOMS around the World

In certain parts of England, principally the rural areas of the north, one of the world's quaintest Easter customs has persisted for centuries. On Easter Sunday the men have the privilege of "hitting" any women they meet. Sometimes in a chair, sometimes on the clasped hands of the men, "victims" are lifted three times and must then buy their freedom with a kiss to each of the lifters. On the following day the women lift the men, who quite willingly pay the same ransom.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE RISEN CHRIST

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
(Editor of The Congregationalist.)
The story of the resurrection of Jesus is told by different writers and in different ways. Some have seen in these different narratives conflicting evidence, and they have made the differences a basis of doubt.

Is it not much more reasonable to say that it is these very differences that destroy all idea of collusion, all notion that the disciples were making up "cumulatively devised fables," and were agreed about telling the same thing?

What we have in these resurrection stories is the simple narratives as they came out of the and Adolph Chaon homes on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brucker and family were Mendota shoppers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maier and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCaffery of Walton Sunday.

The pupils of the parochial school are enjoying a week's vacation. Studies will be resumed on Tuesday morning.

experiences of the disciples and as they developed in the early church.

The resurrection of Jesus would not be a miracle, if we could explain it, and if we knew all about it. The one great clear fact that does stand out is that, at the very hour of the disciples' deepest gloom, when with great reluctance they were turning back to their homes and to their old lives, the disappointed followers of a sublime hope that they were reluctant to give up, there came to them the clear assurance that Jesus was not dead, but was living.

With that conviction, there was the revival of their faith that quickened them into newness of living and sent them forth with a new power to establish the Christian Church and to build upon the great foundation of Christ himself the power and influences of Christianity.

Who that reads these narratives and that considers all that these experiences had to do with the founding of the Christian religion, can doubt the reality of the experience? It is not ours to explain.

but we are brought face to face with these mystic, spiritual experiences in which the disciples had a clear vision of their risen Lord.

The most beautiful of all the narratives is that concerning Mary Magdalene, coming early in the morning, while it was yet dark, to the sepulchre where Jesus was buried, and finding the stone rolled away. Mary had come, apparently, rather in love and in loyalty, than with any clear faith that she would find things much changed.

When she found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre, instead of waiting, she came running to Simon Peter and to the "other disciple whom Jesus loved," probably John himself, making known to them her amazing discovery.

Peter and John immediately ran to the sepulchre, but even zealous Peter was outdistanced by the loving John, who arrived first. John looked in, but did not enter the tomb. Impulsive Peter went all the way, and discovered that the body of Jesus was gone.

The disciples went to their own homes. We wonder with what thoughts in their hearts. But Mary, still mystified, still with her love and loyalty, rather than with any clear hope, stood outside of the sepulchre weeping. It was then that she had the vision of the two angels, and, turning from the tomb she saw Jesus standing there though she knew not that it was Jesus.

Why did she not know him? Was it still somewhat dark, and because of the darkness that she did not recognize him? She supposed that he was the gardener, and that perhaps he knew where the body had been taken.

It was then that Jesus spoke her name, and at the sound of his voice she understood, and she said "Master!"

What more can any of us say than that?
